Fiscal court was in session again this week.

The laundry move is growing into favorable shape.

The hotel project is still on foot. We believe there will yet be something doing.

Don't let the few days of sunshine fool you. Better keep 'em on a while longer.

A creamery would bring dollars to anyone establishing such an enterprise in Lancaster.

Snow, sleet, hail and sunshine this week. Seems as if the weather man was striving to please everybody.

F S Hughes, trustee of the jury fund asks The Record to announce that the money for jurors serving at last term of court is now ready for payment.

Opening Game.

Reds vs. Pittsburg. Sunday April 14th. Special excursion via the Queen and Crescent Route.

Sale of Farm.

Hughes & Swinebroad sold for N P Cobb his beautiful farm, on the Lexington pike, to Silas W Moss, at a bargain.

Excursion Season Opens.

First excursion to Cincinnati via Q. & C. will be Sunday April 14th and every other Sunday thereafter through the month of October.

Disappointed Again.

Last Sunday was cold, rainy and very disagreeable, so the women folk were a gain unable to come out on parade with their new spring toggery. Many a girl went to church as mad as a wet hen.

Fifty-Cents Levy.

The meeting of the Fiscal Court this week, the county levy was fixed at fifty cents, same as in the past year. Twenty five cents of this is for turnpikes the remainder for other expenses of the county.

Best in South.

Danville is building a skating rink which will be second to none in the South. In addition to every modern improvement, a $2,800 orchestra is being installed to furnish music for the skaters and spectators. The project is backed by some of Danville's most prominent citizens. The grand opening will occur April 18. See ad.

Fiscal Court.

The Fiscal Court was in session several days, and quite a lot of routine business transacted. This court is composed of gentlemen who are striving hard to look after the business of the county in the proper manner, and The Record takes great pleasure in saying they are certainly succeeding.

Good Ones Scarce.

Printers—that is, good ones—are as scarce as "Christians" who put their Sunday-professions into the every day walks of life. That's making them pretty scarce, we are aware, but it's a fact. A good printer today commands most any salary he asks, and why more men do not learn the art is incomprehensible.

Good Man Nominated.

The other candidates withdrawing, Hon Will H Shanks was given the nomination of the democratic ticket to make the race for representative of Lincoln county. Mr Shanks is a young man of splendid ability and integrity and his party will never have cause to regret it's action in giving him the nomination.

Looks Like Yerkes.

Notwithstanding the fact that he has repeatedly said he would not accept the honor, yet it looks very much like Hon Jno W Yerkes will be given the nomination for governor on the republican ticket. There is much news paper talk on the subject just now, much of the information coming from reliable sources. Gov Bradley will not under any circumstances make the race.

Good Talks.

The temperance lectures in this city Sunday morning and evening by Messrs T S Buckingham and W S Collins were greatly enjoyed by large audiences and will result in much good. Messrs Buckingham and Collins are splendid speakers, and put the question out of the old cut and dried from. Our people appreciate their visit to Lancaster and Garrard very much.

Christian Church Convention.

The Tenth District Convention of the Christian Church embracing the Bible School Association and the Christian Woman's Board of Missions, will be held at Somerset, Pulaski county, April 17-19. The Tenth District is composed of the counties of Garrard, Lincoln, Madison, Pulaski and Rock castle, and it is expected that delegations will be present from many of the churches of the district. A very interesting, practical and helpful program has been arranged, providing for conferences and discussions with addresses by prominent workers of the district.

Important Notice.

It is very important that the exhibits promised for the Jamestown Exposition be brought in right away, and if sent in to Mount & Elkin's store immediately it will be of great assistance in getting Garrard's exhibit in shape. Please don't delay.
J B Mount.

JAIL DELIVERY.

Will Humber and Jones Simpson Saw Bars and Escape from Jail. Officers in Pursuit.

Some time between one and three o'clock this (Thursday) morning, Will Humber and Jones Simpson made their escape from the Garrard county jail by sawing the bars and passing out through the elevator used in sending meals from the kitchen to the cells. Jailor David Ross made his usual rounds just before midnight and found everything quiet and apparently safe. The prisoners were not missed until five o'clock this morning and officers are now scouring the country and the wires are being kept hot in an effort to catch them. Humber is under a life sentence for killing Policeman George Pollard and Simpson got twenty one years for burning a house and killing two men, account of which was given in a recent issue of The Record. John Simpson, under like sentence with his brother for same offense, would not leave. He was the only other prisoner in the jail. As we go to press, no trace of the prisoners has been found.

High-Priced Drink.

To show you how blind tigers have been stamped out in Lancaster, we will state that in the Police Court, Tuesday, a bootlegger was caught selling him drink, and Judge Armstrong fined him $50 and ten days in the work house at hard labor. That's the way to do it.

Speaking.

J R Mount, candidate for the democratic nomination for representative, will address the voters at Buckeye next Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Also at Bryantsville the following Sat (20th) at same hour. Everybody cordially and earnestly invited.

Col "Eph" Lillard Nominated.

Col E W Lillard, the clever Danville druggist, was unanimously nominated as democratic candidate to represent Boyle county in the next General Assembly. Col Lillard resided in Lancaster for a number of years and has a legion of warm friends here who are delighted to know that this honor has been conferred upon him. He is eminently fitted for the position, and will doubtless be elected without opposition.

A Wise Move.

The Fiscal Court has very wisely decided to call an election and give the people of Garrard county another opportunity to have the dilapidated, unsightly and dangerous court house repaired. It has been found that for $7,500 the old hull can be put into habitable and safe condition, and The Record believes the people will this time consider the vital importance of the matter and vote for bonds to that amount. It will not increase the rate of taxation one copper.

For the 'Steenth Time.

We will enter into our closet forty times a day and thank the Lord if the people will only get the fact into their heads that The Central Record positively will not publish any article, from any body, which is intended as a personal thrust, or to cast reflections on other people. Every few weeks, these articles are brought to us, the writers even agreeing to sign their names and pay for same at regular rates. Nay, nay, Pauline, that don't go in this office, and we have so published the fact many times during the twelve years the present editor has been on the tripod.

A Wise Move.

Nearly every county in the state has made a contribution to assist in paying for a Kentucky exhibit at the James town Exposition, and the Garrard Fiscal Court did likewise Tuesday, though the amount was only $100. At least $250 should have been given, and would have been had not there been such pressing need of funds for the building of new pikes and maintaining the other roads in the county. A recent act of the Legislature permits the county officials to expend so much per year in advertising the county's resources, and this money could not have been placed to a better advantage. The Record congratulates the court in its progressiveness.

Jennings.

After a lingering and painful illness, Mrs Jane Jennings died at her home, Richmond street, Thursday. Mrs Jennings had been confined to her bed for some weeks, and on several occasions her life was despaired of but she rallied and was spared for many more days than those her expected. Mrs Jennings spent nearly all her life in Lancaster and was well known not only in the town but all over the county. She leaves one son, Samuel Jennings; one brother, W J Romans, of this city; and three sisters, Mesdames Elizabeth Petty, of Illinois, Eliza Blankenship, of Missouri, and Melinda Cotton, of Kirksville. Mrs Jennings was a member of the Christian church and a devoted, conscientious Christian in every way. She was beloved by all who knew her, and many people will long remember her many acts of kindness. Eld F M Tindler conducted the funeral services, the interment taking place at the Lancaster Cemetery.

Card of Thanks

I take this mehod of thanking the many kind friends who rendered such valuable assistance to me during my illness. I am deeply grateful and will never forget your kindness.
Henry B Cox.

Spring Walk OVER Display.

The universal appreciation of "Walk Over" shoes is attested by the fact that they are now sold in forty four different countries.

The present capacity of the "Walk Over" plant is 18,000 complete pairs of shoes every factory day, making it the largest plant in the world devoted to the manufacture of men's fine shoes.

There are nearly as many parts to a shoe as there are bones in the human body and it is just as necessary that each separate part of the shoe be perfect, to obtain a perfect shoe, as that each bone be perfect in forming a perfect man.

But the fact that each individual part is perfect is not enough, for "Walk Over" quality means something beside good leather. It means good workmanship, the perfect assembling of every perfect part; it also means that every one of the 3000 people who work upon "Walk Over" shoes is a skilled mechanic, having a pride in his knowledge of the particular part of the work which he performs.

This blending of the best in leather, the best in workmanship and the personal pride of the workers in the shoes which are being produced accounts for the uniform excellence, which is attested by the constantly increasing demand for them, and is proof that "Walk Over" shoes are literally "Shoes of the Hour" in all the attributes of good shoemaking.

CENTRAL RECORD

ISSUED WEEKLY. $1.00 A YEAR.

LOUIS LANDRAM, Edr.-Pubr.

Published at the Post Office in Lancaster, Ky., as Second-Class Mail Matter.

Lancaster, Ky., April 12, 1906.

Always wise in his advice to his people, Booker T. Washington's remarks to his Indianapolis audience had a special fitness. The substance was that they can best serve their race in the south by giving such attention to the moral, religious and industrial conditions of the colored population here that the whites will be able to see the possibilities of the race. Washington has a genius for common sense, that most uncommon possession, and the more closely his advice is followed the better for the negroes north and south.

The Rev Mr Cramer, of Indiana, is having a strenuous religious life. In addition to being charged with heresy, his wife repudiates his doctrine that women should not be heard in the church. This is not strange. The doctrine might have been accepted in the days of Paul, but in this country women will not keep still anywhere. Mr Cramer's only chance for success is to organize a church for men only.

Among the really great reforms contemplated by the Texas legislature is a law requiring all shows that exhibit in the state to produce all they advertise. This may be trying on those who advertise "The World's Greatest" in various lines, but on the principle of the pure food law nobody can reasonably object to an honest label.

Commendation of the thoughtfulness of the theatrical manager who got his audience out without panic during a fire by having the orchestra play "Marching Through Georgia" can not be too great. A capable orchestra ought to get an audience into the street as speedily as a circus parade.

It is estimated that the slaughter of birds costs the farmers of the country millions of dollars every year. It really looks as if the farmer gets stuck on everything that happens.

Pierpont Morgan has bought $1,200,000 more of "art treasures." And just think how many defective frogs and other railroad batrachians could be repaired for that amount.

Obituary.

Again the hand of the Angel of Death has swept over the earth and borne away a treasure, Miss Mary Lewis Grimes. The matronly wife of father and mother, the ever-willing helper and loving companion of father and sisters, the darling of the home, the eldest sister, closed her last chapter in life's volume, laid aside her mantle of clay and without a fear responded to the call of the Reaper. For a long time she had known him in whom she believed and was "persuaded that he is able to keep that which is committed unto him against that day." For a long time she had leaned on the everlasting arm, had trusted in the promises of her Saviour, and found him faithful, therefore her heart was brave and to her Reaper was but a messenger from her Father sent to bring her from the valley of shadows into the mansions of light. She is not dead but sleeping, dreaming, "Only a dream, only a dream, And glory beyond the dark sea. How peaceful the slumber, how happy the waking, For death is only a dream." Miss Georgia Dunn.

In Memoriam.

The many friends of W. B. Terrell were grieved to learn of his death from typhoid fever, which occurred in Cynthiana March 4th 1907. The deceased was born and raised in Garrard county, and was a son of the late Wm Terrell. He was 35 and had lived in this country until a few years since, when he moved to Cynthiana where he held a fine position with the American Tobacco Company. He united with the Christian church at the early age of 13, and a most fitting sermon was preached over the remains. He was a noble specimen of young manhood, which makes his death all the more touching. "Bub," as he was familiarly called, is remembered by the writer as the curly-haired, blue-eyed boy, the light of the house hold; then as the promising son, next as the fine young man. Now the voice is stilled, he has joined father, mother and sister, one of a great throng gone on before. Our wish to keep him was human, Gods call divine; we submit and await the unfolding of the curtain on that great day where all things are made plain. The interment took place in Lancaster Cemetery, where beautiful flowers the last tribute of loving friends, covered the grave and we left him in sweet unbroken sleep. We extend deepest sympathy to the sisters, Mrs J T Arnold, Mrs Jas Turner and Mrs Annie Adams and brothers John and William and other relatives. ***

Bitten by a Spider.

Through blood poisoning caused by a spider bite, John Washington of Bosqueville, Tex, would have lost his leg, which became a mass of running sores had he not been persuaded to try Bucklen's Arnica Salve. He writes: "The first application relieved, and four boxes healed all the sores." 25c. Guaranteed at R. E. McRoberts drugist.

She had been in poor health for some time and patiently bore her suffering until the summons came from on high. She was a consistent member of the Baptist church at this place she became a christian at the age of 14 and was faithful to the end. Five sons and one daughter are left to mourn the loss, but what is your loss is her gain, grieve not for her who has gone to a better and brighter world where there is no sorrow or weeping, but there peace and happiness reign for ever. Funeral services were conducted by Rev J I Willis, of Walton, Ky. Text: "These are they which came out of great tribulation," Interment in Mt Hebron Cemetery. We extend our heart felt sympathy to the bereaved children.

The Mt Sterling Gazette is predicting an increased tobacco acreage of five hundred acres in Montgomery this year. To maintain good prices and assist the Society of Equity movement the farmers should not put out too large an acreage. Small crops and good culture would pay better and insure good prices. However, many think that owing to the scarcity of labor, the crop cannot be so large as to glut the market.
